Subject: RE: Today's meeting - extension to comment period

Marty - We're very happy to hear that the Missouri tank cleanup program is on Director Comer's radar. An additional 30 days for the Director's review and consideration is more than reasonable. The first business day 30 days after the current due date of January 27th is February 27th.

We'd also like the opportunity to meet with the Director, if she would be interested in hearing directly from EPA about the concerns we highlighted in the draft program review report. While I'm certain she has a very full schedule, please extend this request to meet with Director Comer at her convenience.

With regard to both DEQ and PSTIF, both organizations will have had 60 days to review the draft report as of January 27th. EPA participated in a meeting with DEQ and PSTIF on January 12th to discuss the and answer questions about the draft report. Based on the portions of PSTIF's audio recording of that meeting, it seems to me that both organizations have had an ample opportunity to review the draft report and prepare their comments. So, we'd still like to see both DEQ and PSTIF comments by January 27th.

We will, of course, not issue a final report until we've thoroughly reviewed the Directors comments, which are now due February 27th.

Thanks, Marty for your help in facilitating the completion of this program review report.

Everyone, Director Comer's first day was yesterday. I mentioned this briefly to her today, and she would like to request a 30-day extension so that she can get up to speed on this issue. Please let us know as soon as possible.

Thanks

Aaron and Carol,

Thank you for the healthy discussion today.

I was able to track John down before we left tonight. We will grant another 15-day extension for you to submit collective comments by COB January 27, 2017. This will bring the comment period to 60 days total. We plan to finalize the report shortly thereafter.

If it would be helpful to you, I know you had written comments from which you were speaking today, you could submit those to us and we could begin addressing those comments and making any necessary clarifications in the meantime.

As I mentioned earlier, you can send your audio recording to my attention.

Take care.

Subject: Today's meeting

Thank you again for getting together with DNR and us today to discuss your draft report.

The recording of our conversation is about 150 megabytes, so we can't email it. My assistant will be glad to burn it onto a CD and send it to whomever you designate, if you wish. Hopefully, none of us will need to refer to it, but it'll be in the file if a question should arise about what was said.

As discussed, subject to the caveat that Governor Greitens' administration may wish to "weigh in," which could potentially delay things, we will aim to send joint DNR/PSTIF comments/feedback to you by January 27.

Stay safe this weekend – It sounds like the weather may be nasty!

Carol
